SHIGARAKI - THE DESTINATION

Shigaraki, a historic kiln area in Japan, boasts a 750-year tradition of producing Shigaraki ware and serves as a destination where tradition meets creativity. Artisans craft a diverse variety of pottery, and visitors can explore vibrant galleries, engage in pottery activities, and enjoy culinary delights in charming cafés. Shigaraki's Asamiya tea plantations, among the very first in Japan dating back to 805 AD, produce "Asamiyacha," considered one of Japan's top five teas.

Tokyo

Once the capital city of Japan, Shigaraki is also famous for its iconic tanuki (raccoon dog) figurines. Alongside pottery galleries, kilns, and workshops, visitors can enjoy the spectacular Miho Museum designed by I.M. Pei (architect of the Louvre), Shigaraki's Togei no Mori Ceramic Cultural Park, and premier golf courses. There are opportunities to play golf and practice mindfulness through pottery making, blending relaxation with cultural immersion.

Access is easy, with Shigaraki just a stone's throw from Kyoto, offering convenient train access for a swift retreat into its rich artistic heritage.

Creating unforgettable experiences

Shigaraki, renowned for its rich pottery traditions and captivating cultural heritage, offers a plethora of attractions that can seamlessly fit into any travel itinerary. To aid travel agents and planners in crafting the perfect visit to this enchanting town, the Shigaraki Tourism Association has developed a series of model courses. These courses, categorized into day trips and themed experiences, ensure visitors have an immersive experience in Shigaraki, helping travel professionals uncover its essence as a compelling addition to any visit to Japan.

When creating an itinerary to visit Shigaraki, considering the following will help to create a smooth flowing and memorable experience.

1. Extensive content

Pottery and Ceramics - As one of Japan's designated six ancient kiln areas, Shigaraki's pottery and ceramic production sector is a major draw for visitors.

- Shops and Galleries Numerous shops and galleries showcase and sell Shigaraki pottery.
- Activity Providers Hands-on pottery-making experiences are available for visitors. Artisans' Ateliers Explore the workshops where artisans craft their pieces. Also have the opportunity to learn pottery making from bonified artisans.
- Commercial Factories Witness large-scale production processe
- Educational Facilities and Museums Learn about the history and techniques of Shigaraki pottery. These facets can be selected to create engaging and unforgettable itineraries.

Tea Growing - Asamiya, is one of Japan's oldest tea-growing regions, 'Asamiyacha'' is one of Japan's top five teas, visitors can take tours throughout the year to see and learn about tea processing

Organic Pioneers - Visit plantations that produce organically grown teas as well as plantations that make and sell delicious cakes and dairy treats made with tea

Arts - Shigaraki is a vibrant hub for art enthusiasts, offering a diverse array of experiences that celebrate both tradition and innovation.

The Shigaraki Ceramic Cultural Park - is a multi-functional facility, there is a "Museum and Exhibition Centre" featuring displays and exhibits on ceramics. A "Training and Educational Facility", that offers educational programs and workshops and a "Sculptural Arts Centre" and "Artisans Event Arena", which hosts various events throughout the year, showcasing the talents of regional artisans. Miho Museum - Features stunning architecture by I.M. Pei and houses significant cultural artifacts in both permanent and rotating displays

Culture - Shigaraki pottery is deeply connected to Japan's tea culture and the philosophy of "Wabi Sabi," the appreciation of imperfection and transience, reflected in many aspects of Shigaraki.

Tea Ceremony and Flower Arranging - Participate in these traditional arts, integral to the region. The tea ceremony in particular embodies Wabi Sabi, emphasizing the beauty of simplicity, natural materials, and the fleeting nature of the moment. Flower arranging (Ikebana) also reflects Wabi Sabi principles through asymmetrical arrangements and seasonal flowers. Shrines and Temples - Visit places like the Shigaraki Ichinomiya Shingu Shrine, where you can pay respects to the gods and seek blessings for your pottery creations. Unique charms available at

- the shrine add to the experience, enhancing the connection between spiritual practice and the creation of art. The worn structures and natural surroundings of the shrines exemplify Wabi Sabis appreciation for the aged and imperfect.
- Historic Sites Explore the archaeological site of the former Shigaraki Palace, once the capital of Japan. The ruins and remnants of this historic site offer a tangible connection to the past, highlighting the Wabi Sabi acceptance of change and the passage of time.

Food - Shigaraki is renowned for its culinary delights and is a key element and major supporter of all of the activities that can be enjoyed in the area.

- Matsutake Mushrooms Experience foraging and dining on these prized mushrooms
- Omi Beef One of Japan's top 3 brand beefs, enjoy this famous beef at local restaurants
- Local Rice and produce Savor and purchase locally grown rice and produce. Many of the farmers in Shigaraki are growing produce organically. There is even opportunities to enjoy rice that has been grown using natural farming methods within the historic former "Shigaraki Palace" grounds. This rice, which is also sent to the Imperial household, can be enjoyed in select local restaurants, adding a unique and prestigious element to the dining experience.

Golf - Koka City ranks third in Japan for the number of golf courses, with a total of 11 located in Shigaraki alone. Notably, Shigaraki is set to host the 91st Japan Open Golf Championship in 2026.

Golf and Mindfulness - Engage in fast paced, high-concentration game of golf amidst Shigaraki's natural landscapes, then in the same visit transition to pottery making, recently globally celebrated as a practice to encourage mindfulness and creativity. Pottery making settles the mind though creation using natural elements of earth, water, and fire.

2. Transportation Options for Exploring Shigaraki

Pottery Festival and Events

In Shigaraki, throughout the year, artisans and potters showcase their works at various events. Visitors can enjoy the pleasure of searching for unique ceramics amidst a lively, market-like atmosphere.

Shigaraki Sakaichi (Artists Market)

The "Shigaraki Artists' Market" is a popular event with a long tradition, held annually for four days in May. Participating ceramic artists set up booths to display and sell their works directly. This event takes place at the Shigaraki Ceramic Cultural Park - Sun Plaza and attracts not only ceramic artists but also artists working in wood, glass, leather, and fashion. The event features a workshop trail where visitors can experience professional techniques, and there is also a food area offering unique dishes.

Details and Location

Date: May 2nd – May 5th (annually) Time: 9:00 – 17:00 Venue: Shigaraki Ceramic Cultural Park - Sun Plaza Website: https://www.shigaraki-sakkaichi.com/

Shigaraki Pottery Festival

The Shigaraki Pottery Festival is a hybrid-style event held in tents set up in galleries and the Shigaraki Pottery Wholesale Cooperative parking lot. During the event, distinctive "Shigaraki Pottery Festival" banners are displayed, making it easy to identify participating galleries and stores. The latest information is updated on the Shigaraki Pottery Festival website. The event features special discounts, gifts, and a stamp rally with opportunities to win exclusive prizes unique to the pottery festival.

Details and Location

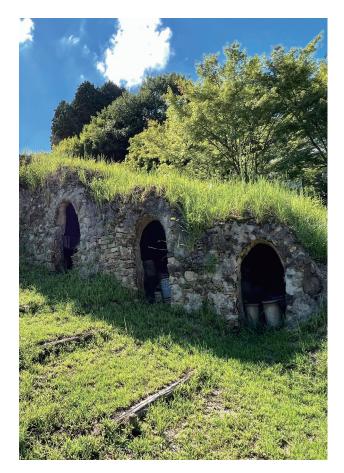

Date: October 7th – October 15th (annually) Time: 9:00 – 17:00
